WANT TO TRY US ON? CONSIDER A WEAR TRIAL

You need to be happy with your uniform purchase for a long time - it makes sense for you to “try before you buy.”

A Red Kap® Wear Trial will assess your situation and provide recommended uniforms for team members to wear on a trial basis. Wearers evaluate the uniforms on comfort and performance during their daily work.

After the trial, our experts review that feedback to make any adjustments if needed and get you going!

It's a great way to know you are creating a uniform program that will make you and your team feel confident every day. And we will do all the work while you focus on getting excited!

IT'S QUICK & EASY

A wear trial takes about one month start to finish - with an average 2 week trial period.

Here are the five basic steps of the process:

1. NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Whether this is your first program or a new one, we'll meet to discuss your uniform program needs - things like:

- Your uniform wish list: from product and image to budget and service
- The ideal clothes for your team's day-to-day look and feel
- The inventory you want available and any issues you wish to address

2. DESIGN YOUR WEAR TRIAL

We will take the lead in creating your wear trial.

- Help you select 'Wearers' (participating team members) who will give feedback
- Pick uniform products to test and set dates for wear trial to begin and end

3. PREPARE FOR WEAR TRIAL

You're almost there! We will:

- Take measurements and pre-fit Wearers
- Share trial participation details & garment information
- Send product and make sure everyone is all set!

4. CONDUCT WEAR TRIAL

This is when the magic happens!

- Garments are worn to see how they fit the team and the job - typically for two weeks
- Surveys are filled out by Wearers to give us feedback from the field

5. RESULTS & NEXT STEPS

This is where it gets real. We will create your ideal uniform program once we:

- Review survey results from your Wearers
- Finalize product recommendations based on their experiences
- Create a perfect model for your uniform delivery and service
